RIC'KAYLA SHORT

Ric'Kayla Short, a senior at Savannah State University (SSU) majoring in Business Administration, hails from the serene countryside of Macon, MS.

She is deeply involved in her community and serves as a leader across several campus organizations. During her term as SSU NCNW president, Ric'Kayla doubled membership and increased the organization's campus presence. While serving as Miss Purple of the Alpha Gamma Chapter of Omega Psi Phi, Ric'Kayla registered 50+ students to vote. As Vice President of Alumni Relations for Delta Sigma Pi Professional Business Fraternity, Ric'Kayla curated events to increase alumni engagement, including fundraising and networking with current students. As Vice President of the Delta Nu Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc., she will establish a partnership with NCNW to drive social action.

Ric'Kayla is an aspiring Fortune 500 financial institution CEO, in this capacity she will build community amongst Black women to serve as a source of personal and professional support through mentoring, resources, and training. To this end she has pursued a number of professional opportunities to help her cultivate her skills including serving as a Savannah Chatham County Public Schools intern, Thurgood Marshall Leadership Institute Scholar, and Wells Fargo Technology Finance intern.

Ric'Kayla is, a NCNW rising changemaker!
